Overhead/Handout 11.1. Know Why You Want to Change a Behavioral Symptom

To ensure the safety of the client, staff members, other clients

To provide for the comfort of others

To control behavior that violates the rights of others

To meet quality assurance standards or community expectations

To control costs

To provide relief to the caregiver, family, or staff

To improve quality of life for the person with dementia

To make patient care easier

Permission to reproduce this material for educational use is granted by the publisher. From Nancy L. Mace, Teaching Dementia Care: Skill and Understanding. Copyright © 2005 The Johns Hopkins University Press.